

This is my beautiful Kingstown City, but something is disturbing behind the palm trees. Look at the roof of the buildings in “Little Tokyo”. Those buildings are occupied by small businesses that keep the city afloat. I mean they pay rent to the Government and pay their taxes. Isn't that a shame and can devalue the other properties in the area? I am calling on the Ralph Gonsalves Administration to make the necessary repairs and save the city from “falling apart”.
