

The face of Kingstown City from the Long Wall area. I do not know what it will be like after the 2020 elections if there is a change of government or even before if there is a snap election pending the results of the election petitions.

